

WANTED: JURORS TO TRY RUEF

W.C. VAN FLEET IS APPOINTED DISTRICT JUDGE

JUDGE WILLIAM C. VAN FLEET.

Distinguished Jurist Was Backed by Senator Perkins, Secretary Metcalf, Supreme Judge Henshaw and Congressman Knowland.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—President Roosevelt today appointed William C. Van Fleet of San Francisco to the new district judgeship for the district of California created by the last Congress. This ends a sharp contest in which two cabinet officers took opposite sides and powerful influences were invoked in different parts of the country.

Judge Van Fleet, who sat for years on the Superior bench of Sacramento county and served a term on the California Supreme bench, was originally slated for the position on the recommendation of Senator Perkins, Congressman Knowland, and nearly the entire California delegation in Congress, Supreme Justice Henshaw, Secretary Metcalf and a host of prominent lawyers.

But at the eleventh hour a strong movement in favor of Supreme Justice Max C. Sloss developed, and the cry was raised that Judge Van Fleet was backed by railroad influences.

Mr. Gregory of the San Francisco law firm of Olney, Chickering & Gregory came to Washington with a petition in Sloss' behalf, and also with a representation that Judge Van Fleet was friendly to the railroads.

Secretary Straus, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, warmly enlisted himself in behalf of Sloss and so did President Eliot of Harvard University. A determined effort was made to play on the President's antipathy to railroad influence in politics, but the only proof submitted of Van Fleet's alleged railroad affiliations was the fact that he married a Miss Crocker, a niece of one of the original Big Four of the Southern Pacific.

On the other hand, overwhelming testimonials to Judge Van Fleet's judicial uprightness and high personal standing came pouring in from all parts of the State. Secretary Metcalf, who is a personal friend of Van Fleet's, advocated his appointment as vigorously as Secretary Straus did the appointment of Sloss. Leading members of the bench and bar throughout California declared for Van Fleet.

As the great weight of California influence was on the side of Van Fleet while the big end of the Sloss backing came from New York and Massachusetts, the President decided to give local sentiment the preference. He was confirmed in this decision by Van Fleet's wide popularity with the legal profession and the abundant proof of his judicial fitness and his irreproachable character.

Van Fleet, who is well-known in Washington, is being warmly congratulated by wire by many prominent men.

SENATOR DEPEW TALKS ABOUT THAT $200,000 CAMPAIGN FUND

Denies Corporations Contributed

WASHINGTON, April 3.—It was authoritatively declared today at the White House that the real reason for Mr. Harriman's interest in the election of the state ticket in New York in 1903, reference to which was made in the communication which passed between him and the president, was that he desired to advance his own ambitions. It is asserted that Mr. Harriman wanted the position of senator, now filled by Mr. Depew, and that this was the reason why he was anxious to have him appointed ambassador to Paris. The inference from Mr. Harriman's attitude, according to a statement made at the White House, was that if Depew could be induced to go to Paris that Governor Higgins was prepared to appoint him to the vacancy.

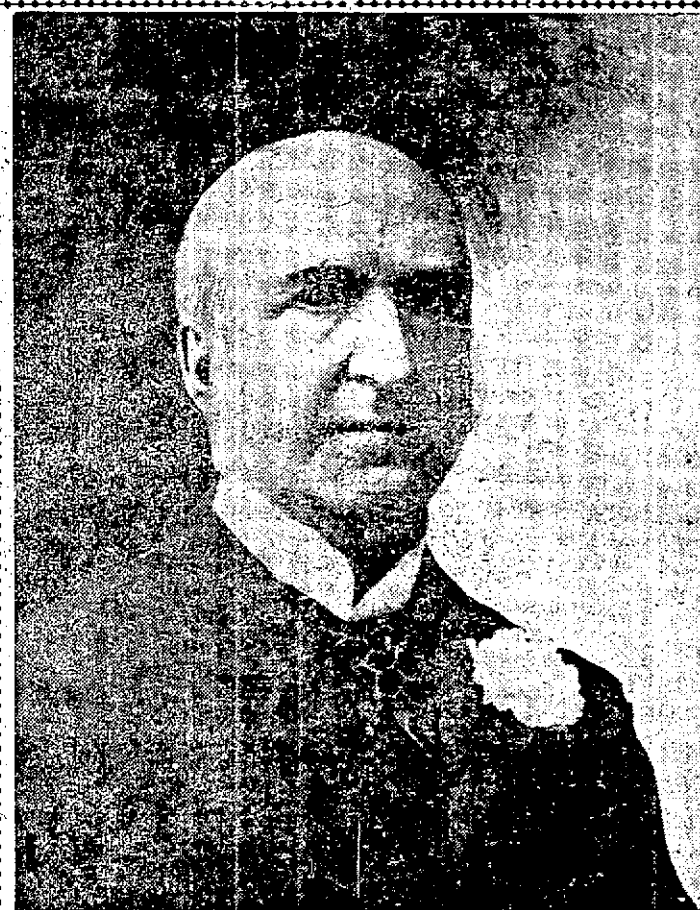

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Secretary Loeb said today that there would not be any further announcement from the President bearing upon the issue between him and Mr. Harriman growing out of the conferences and letters between the two in the latter part of 1904, the details of which were made public yesterday.

NEW YORK, April 3.—While the controversy which has arisen between President Roosevelt and E. H. Harriman is attracting widespread attention, politicians and others who were closely connected with the campaign of 1904 do not show a disposition to discuss the subject.

Senator Chauncey M. Depew was the only one who would add anything to the letters and statements made by the President and Mr. Harriman. He is quoted as saying:

"My knowledge of the $200,000 campaign fund was all gained after the occurrence to which Mr. Harriman refers. I knew nothing about it at the time and it would be very improper for me to mention any names in any way.

"I may say, however, that the money did not come from corporations, neither from individuals whose corporation affiliations were such that they had anything to expect from the administration in return. They were men of wealth who necessarily had corporate connections,

DECLARE STRIKE ORDER TYRANNICAL AND UNJUST

President McCarthy Calls Out Union
Workmen on Fairmount Hotel; Opinion Divides Forces.

By HARTLAND LAW.

"I don't want to discuss the situation here, because it rests largely with the men. We urged them to go back to work because we thought the action was wrong. But the walkout of the men will not interfere with our plans. We will open the hotel on the eighteenth, whether they all go back or not. We will hold the anniversary banquet in the dining room of the hotel on the night of the eighteenth if we have to eat by candle light."

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—All the union men employed on the Hotel Fairmont were called off this morning by order of P. H. McCarthy, president of the Building Trades Council. Six hundred obeyed the order, but after excited meetings had been held on the street more than half the number returned to work, declaring the order of McCarthy to be tyrannical and unjust. Those who left their work did so under the understanding that they would consider the matter tonight.

McCarthy's order grew out of his controversy with the Independent Union of Electrical Workers, which was formed here some time ago in defiance of his orders. The unions involved in the walkout were the plumbers, tilers, glaziers, seamstresses, carpenters, painters, plasterers, bricklayers, and electrical workers.

TALESMEN ARE EXAMINED BY THE LAWYERS

Ruef is getting gray. He is getting gray very rapidly. Many noticed this with surprise this morning. Every other curl on his head is turning to a silver hue. Time was not long ago, when Ruef's luxuriant locks were dark as the raven's wing. Time was, not long ago, when his brow was covered with a curly wig. Then Ruef got into trouble and about the same time he began to get bald. It was noted how rapidly Ruef's hair was receding from his forehead. Now Ruef is getting gray. He's not an old man, either. Ruef must be worrying.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Up to noon today in the trial of Abraham Ruef for extortion alleged to have been practiced upon Joseph L. Masanti of the old Delmonico restaurant which, before the fire, was on O'Farrell street, one talesman, Alonzo R. Deperu of 2152 Pine street had been excused for bias on motion of counsel for the defendant, and against the protest of the prosecution.

Two talesmen, namely, J. R. Bradstreet of 4157 Hayes street, and J. H. Dumbrell of 1812 Broadway, have been passed in the box, so they have not, as yet, been accepted.

This afternoon the next talesman to be examined will be William Cohen, who resides at 1812 McAllister street.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—The trial of Abraham Ruef for extortion was resumed this morning before Superior Judge Dunne with talesman Angelo R. Duberu under examination by the defense.

Attorney Ach questioned Duberu minutely as to what he had read in the newspapers regarding the graft investigation and the indictment of Ruef.

Counsel for Ruef had in court many bound files and large bundles of local newspapers and it was their intention to read aloud scores of articles therefrom to test the qualifications of each talesman in turn.

That this would not be permitted, however, was made apparent when Judge Dunne sustained a spirited objection interposed by Special Prosecutor Johnson.

Nor was Ach allowed to spread out the newspaper files in such a position that the headlines could be read by the talesmen.

He was required by the court to resume his usual seat at the counsel table and from there to ask his questions.

SECOND CHALLENGE.

The second challenge for cause to be interposed by the defense, and the first to be allowed, resulted in the setting aside of Duberu.

Replying to a question by the court Duberu said that he held the opinion that Ruef was guilty, but that this opinion could be removed by evidence. Attorney Ach promptly challenged the talesman, but the challenge was resisted by the prosecution.

"Why take up time," said Judge Dunne, "in trying to determine the state of this juror's mind? You may be excused, Mr. Duberu. The challenge is allowed."

The examination of the next talesman, J. H. Dumbrell, a retail merchant at No. 2873 California street, was begun by District Attorney Langdon, this being his first active appearance in the trial.

EXAMINATION BRIEF.

Mr. Langdon's examination of Dumbrell was brief and along lines already indicated. The examination by Ach, however, was still under way when the noon recess was taken. Particular stress was laid by him upon the readiness or willingness of the talesman to give Ruef the full benefit of any "reasonable doubt" that might arise as to his guilt, no matter how slight that doubt might be. Dumbrell answered to the satisfaction of the defense.

One question put by Ach with great emphasis was this: "If you were satisfied in your own mind that a reasonable doubt did exist, would you vote to acquit the defendant and would you continue to do so if the other eleven jurors voted to convict? Would you allow them to persuade you to their conclusion, or would you stand by your vote of 'not guilty' regardless of such personal consequences to yourself as long absence from your family, or fear of newspaper criticism or fear of future newspaper attack?"

NOT INFLUENCED.

Dumbrell answered firmly: "I would be guided solely by my own conviction. I would not be influenced by anything else."

Another of Ach's questions was: "Do you believe a man has a right to sell his influence in the aid and assistance of another, if he has influence?"

Mr. Johnson objected to this as not a proper question. Ach retorted that it was. "It may be a live issue in this case," he said.

The objection was sustained. Replying to another interrogation, Dumbrell said: "I believe I am fair and impartial. I believe I could give the defendant a fair and impartial trial on the evidence. But it would be a great inconvenience to me to serve as a juror in this case."

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—The case of Abraham Ruef on the charge of extortion was resumed this morning at 10:20 o'clock in Judge Dunne's court. The room was packed with people. The defendant was attended by his counsel, Messrs. Ach, Farrell, Shortridge and Murphy, and the defense was represented by District Attorney Langdon and Attorney Johnson.

The accused was in custody of Elmer Biggy.

The examination of Deperu as a candidate to serve as a jurymen was resumed by Attorney Ach. Deperu admitted that he had read in this morning's Chronicle and Examiner the report published in those papers of yesterday's proceedings in the court.

OPINIONS.

He was asked if he had any opinion as regards the honesty of Ruef and Schnitz in the political management of San Francisco. He answered that he had not formed an opinion of any weight. He was asked if he had formed any opinion at all and the witness answered:

FOR AMBASSADOR.

"So far as the mention of my name for the post of ambassador to France is concerned, I will say positively that the matter was not broached to me until December, after the opposition to my re-election as senator had crystallized. I heard nothing at all about it back at election time.

"I will not say through what source the suggestion came that I should take the post except that it was asked if I would not accept such an appointment and withdraw from the senatorial contest. I replied that I would not consider it, that my whole training and inclination impelled me to continue my service as senator and that so far as I was concerned it was the senatorship or nothing. Not long after that the opposition was withdrawn."

Cornelius N. Bliss, Senator Platt and former Governor Odell and Governor Black declared to discuss the matter.

NEW YORK, April 3.—E. H. Harriman Monday declared that President Roosevelt urged him to contribute to the Republican Presidential campaign in 1904, and that he gave $50,000. Harriman's statement a "wildly untrue," and said that he never asked the railway magnate for a dollar.

Harriman last night repeated his assertions and produced letters to show that the President has acted unfairly in the matter. He gave out the following statement:

"For many years I have maintained an intimate, confidential correspondence with my friend, Sidney Webster. What I wrote to him and what he wrote to me, of course, was intended to be read alone. In the course of a letter which he wrote to me in December, 1905, he advised me against being drawn into politics and questioned whether I had any political or party instinct united with what he was pleased to call my business instinct.

"He drew from me the reply that Webster's inquiry which is substantially correct from has been stolen and published. This letter was written on January 2, 1906, at a time when no one could doubt the cordiality of my relations with the President. About ten days ago I was told that a discharged stenographer was trying to sell to some newspaper a reproduction from his notes of one of my private letters. I could hardly believe that any matter so obtained would be accepted or published, yet I made every effort to prevent it.

"When I heard last yesterday afternoon that a New York newspaper had a transcript of these notes I notified the publisher at once of the facts and urged upon his attention the gross outrage that the publication of it, under such circumstances, would involve. While deploring, of course, that the sacredness of a private correspondence should thus be violated, I cannot withdraw anything in the letter.

DOES AN INJUSTICE. "I have read the President's statement. I am most anxious to treat this and his other utterances with consideration due to the high office which he holds. Nevertheless I feel bound to call attention to certain things in regard to which he does me injustice.

"In his letter to Mr. Sherman he clearly seeks to convey the impression that the personal interview with him in the fall of 1904 was of my seeking and not his. Let me present the facts: On June 29, 1904, the President wrote me the following letter, which he does not include in the correspondence published today. I reached me in Europe:

"White House, Washington, D. C., June 29, 1904.

"(Personal.)

"My Dear Mr. Harriman: I thank you for your letter. As soon as you come home I shall want to see you. The fight will doubtless be hot then. It has been a real pleasure to see you this year. Very truly yours,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

"In reply to this, I wrote him on my return from Europe the letter of September 20, the opening sentences of which he eliminated in his publication.

HARRIMAN INDICTED. "Then followed a series of invitations from the White House, both from the President and his secretary, urging me to go to Washington. On October 10, the President wrote:

"In view of the trouble over the State ticket in New York, I should much like to have a few words with you. Do you think you can get down here within a few days, and take either luncheon or dinner with me?"

"On October 14 he wrote:

"My Dear Mr. Harriman: A suggestion has come to me in a roundabout way that you do not think it wise to come to see me in these closing weeks of the campaign, but that you are reluctant to refuse, inasmuch as I have asked you."

"A funeral in my family prevented a prompt response to the President's invitation, but finally about October 20 I was able to go to Washington and see him.

"There is some difference of recollection as to what transpired in that interview.

"Fortunately the President himself, in his strictly personal letter to me of November 30, threw some light upon what did take place. He says:

me to come to the White House to have a few words with the President. In view of the trouble over the State ticket in New York.

"Whether I was seeking his aid to secure the adherence of the State of New York to the State ticket or he was seeking mine is proved or disproved by this correspondence, and I cheerfully submit to the public whether the inference clearly suggested by the President is the proper one. I did not so understand it from the invitation.

"The President dwells at length on the assertion that he did not ask me to contribute to the Presidential campaign nor for his personal benefit. I do not deny this statement.

"Nor is it at all inconsistent with the assertions I made in the Webster letter respecting the interview. Therein I distinctly said: 'The President sent me a request to go to Washington to confer upon the political conditions in New York State.'

"I complied, and he told me he understood the campaign could not be successfully carried on without sufficient money and asked if I would help them in raising the necessary funds, as the national committee, under Chairman Cortelyou, had failed to obtain them and there was a large amount due from them to the New York State Committee.

ROOSEVELT URGED. "If this means anything whatever, it must be that he was urging me to help the New York State committee and not the national committee or the Presidential campaign, except so far as the State ticket in New York would contribute to the national ticket."

"What the condition of the finances of the New York State committee and of the national Republican committee at that time was is well known to every one. That the national committee did owe the State committee $50,000, that the State committee was in financial straits is not curious. I was not a political manager. I was asked to go to Washington by the President in the interview of the Webster letter.

THINKS OF DANGER. "I did help in this regard; that I did raise the funds immediately upon my return from the interview with the President is undeniable, and to this fact I contributed $50,000. My interview with the President covered a wide range of subject, and I did not pretend to go over the whole matter in the Webster letter.

"The President's letter of October 14th and his letter of December 1905, in that letter he suggested I might think there was some danger in my visiting him in the close days of the campaign, and suggested that if I thought so the visit might be postponed until after the election, when he would ask me to discuss certain governmental matters not connected with the campaign."

"Here were two distinct invitations to me to discuss governmental matters, and I could see no danger in visiting him to discuss New York politics before the election, and therefore went and discussed that subject alone, and after the election took up with him other subjects of discussion."

"I think it worth noting in the object of the visit had been the Government's relation to railroads the interview would certainly not have been confined to politics."

"I am not responsible for what Mr. Sherman may have said to the President with reference to the conversation he had with me. All that I have to say is that I did not make any suggestion that I contribute to his campaign fund, and that the statements alleged to have been attributed to me by him were false. The President was assured of this fact by a mutual friend who was present at the interview."

PRESIDENT'S DENIAL. WASHINGTON, April 3.—The President was in a state of boiling rage yesterday. The cause was the publication of the letter written by E. H. Harriman to Sidney Webster, dealing with the raising of campaign funds in 1904, when Mr. Roosevelt was a candidate for President.

The published facts about the letter reached here early yesterday and at once the President sent for a corps of stenographers. Secretary Loebe, who is used to violent upheavals, was thrown completely off his balance and became as hysterical as any one else. After a hurried conference between the President, Secretaries Root, Cortelyou and others, it was decided to place Mr. Harriman in nomination for life membership in the Annals Club, in which Senator William E. Chandler, Belmont and many others have been inducted by the President.

A "WILFUL UNTRUTH." Mr. Roosevelt characterized Mr. Harriman's statement as a "deliberate and wilful untruth."

"By right," exclaimed the President, "it should be characterized by an even shorter and more ugly word. I never requested Mr. Harriman to raise a dollar for the Presidential campaign of 1904."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT. E. H. HARRIMAN.

be characterized by an even shorter and more ugly word. I never requested Mr. Harriman to raise a dollar for the Presidential campaign of 1904. On the contrary our communications as regards the campaign related exclusively to the fight being made against Mr. Higgins for Governor of New York. Mr. Harriman being intensely interested in the success of Mr. Higgins because he regarded the attack on him, Mr. Harriman, and on his friend, Governor Odell, and was concerned only in getting me to tell him that you told Mr. Higgins so far as he could, which I gladly did."

President Roosevelt also gave out the following letter which he wrote Mr. Harriman, October 1, 1904:

"My Dear Mr. Harriman: A suggestion has come to me in a roundabout way that you do not think it wise to come on to see me in these closing weeks of the campaign, but that you are reluctant to refuse, inasmuch as I have asked you. Now, my dear sir, you and I are practical men and you upon the ground and know the conditions better than I do. If you think there is any danger of your visit to me causing trouble or if you think there is nothing special to be in the coming month, or no matter in which I could give aid, why, of course, give up the visit for the time being and then, a few weeks hence, before I write my message, I shall get you down here to discuss certain governmental matters not connected with the combination."

MAKES COMMENTS. In commenting on this letter, Mr. Roosevelt says:

"You will see that this letter is absolutely incompatible with any theory that I was asking Mr. Harriman to come down to see me in my own interest, or to make any contribution of any kind or help from him. On the contrary, all I was concerned in seeing him was to know if I could be of help in securing the election of Mr. Higgins—a man for whom I have the highest respect, and who I believed would be, as in fact, has been, a most admirable Governor."

"Moreover, the following letter will show that Mr. Harriman did not have in his mind any idea of my asking him to collect money, and that on the contrary, what he was concerned with in connection with my letter to him was the allusion I made to the fact that I would like to see him before the election to discuss certain governmental matters not connected with the campaign."

Mr. Roosevelt also gave out the following correspondence with Mr. Sherman, embodying letters which passed between the White House and Mr. Harriman:

"November 20, 1904. My Dear Mr. Harriman: Mr. Loebe tells me that you called me today on the telephone and asked me to let you know that I had received your letter of October 14, in which I spoke to you of a desire to see you before sending in my message, as I wanted to go with you to certain matters, and you added that you heard that I had referred to the Interstate Commerce Commission, that you regretted this, and that I had better not do so. I am of the opinion that I have been misled by Mr. Loebe, and that the fact is now being called into the limelight of the civil courts for the third time. To add to their court experiences, Mrs. Florence B. Christensen has already obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce which was granted to her last January by Judge Ellsworth. She claimed in the complaint that was filed several months ago that the dentist had not supported her during their married life and he came home in temperate. The climax of the affair was that Mrs. Christensen's lawyer, in their Alameda home, was the fact that she claims Christensen applied the epithet of 'chippy chaser' to her."

The complaint filed today by Mrs. Christensen is to quiet the title of the property which has been the bone of contention in the family. Christensen alleged when he brought suit for a similar action, that the deed was made over to his wife when he was on his death bed, but on the condition that it would be recorded only in case of his death. He survived the sickness and despite the alleged agreement on what was supposed to be his death bed, he was not recorded. Mrs. Christensen recorded the document.

Dr. Christensen came back with a suit to obtain the property in his name, but the case is still in a legal entanglement which the wife is endeavoring to straighten out in the suit that was instituted today.

In the divorce decree, Mrs. Christensen was awarded the custody of the two minor children and $40 a month alimony.

HANDWRITING EXPERT TESTIFIES IN TRIAL. Carl Eisenheim, a handwriting expert, testified today in the divorce trial of George P. Brown, the Berkeley carpenter, who is accused of passing worthless checks on the banks in the college town. The trial has occupied the time in Superior Judge Ogden's court for the past few days and is likely to continue throughout the week for the defense have not yet called witnesses for their side of the case.

GENERAL JAIL DELIVERY FRUSTRATED BY POLICE Two Men Are Under Arrest Suspected of Attempting to Free City Prisoners.

Chief Wilson frustrated a general jail delivery last night when he followed up a clew handed him as he entered the City Hall about eight o'clock last night. At least everything points to this, and the character of one of the men arrested later gives strength to this opinion. Frank Elmore, a deaf-mute, is one of the men arrested, while "Connie" Fitzgerald, an ex-convict, is the other.

As Chief Wilson was entering the grounds of the City Hall from Fifth street, he noticed the two men standing in front of department two of the police court. While their actions were not suspicious, a feeling came over the chief that they were around the city jail to do mischief. This feeling was enhanced by reason of the fact that cocaine has been found in the jail and the officers have been unable to find how it was brought in.

After reaching his office Chief Wilson remained there a few minutes, then returned to a window in department one of the Police Court and on looking out, saw one of the men standing at the head of the stairway leading to the City Hall, while the other was just disappearing over the fence adjoining the stairway. This fence encloses the back of the cell room at the city jail.

Chief Wilson rushed back to his office, called Captain Lynch by telephone and ordered officers to cover the space back of the jail. He then went to the jail door, leading to the stairs, threw it open and grabbed Elmore, the deaf-mute, Captain Lynch, Detective Kyle, Hodgkins, Green, and McCortley had "covered" the ground ordered by the chief, and Kyle jumped into the stairway.

FIRE SHORT. He caught Fitzgerald, who started over the fence, and started to run away. Kyle followed, and later fired one shot, which passed through Fitzgerald's hand. Then he stopped running and was captured by the police.

Examination of the premises where Fitzgerald was found showed the screen cut, and just inside were fifteen 44-caliber "Dum-dum" cartridges. These were where they could be reached by prisoners inside.

After the two men were searched, and a revolver found on Fitzgerald, they were locked up. The other prisoners in the jail were then searched, and particularly several characters who it is said would commit murder to escape.

Chief Wilson says no firearms or weapons were found, but another search was made today.

Fitzgerald was sent to San Quentin at one time, but pardoned by Governor Farlee.

SAYS THAW IS UNABLE TO ADVISE HIS COUNSEL Alienist Declares White's Slayer Cannot Rightly Understand Position or Appreciate Nature of Crime.

NEW YORK, April 3.—After hearing two experts as witnesses today, one for the State and one for the defense, the commission which is inquiring into the present mental state of Harry K. Thaw went into executive session and conducted its last mental and physical examination of the defendant. Even the lawyers on both sides were barred from this last sitting, the commission intimating that after a mass of contradictory expert testimony placed before it, the members believed they would get all the information they required from Thaw himself.

The commission expects to report its conclusions to Justice Fitzgerald tomorrow at which time the trial will proceed, or an order will be issued committing Thaw to the Matteawan asylum for the criminal insane.

NEW YORK, April 3.—When the Thaw lunacy commission went into session today, District Attorney Jerome called to the witness stand Dr. Allen Ross, Thaw's physician, superintendent of the state hospital for the insane at Middletown, Conn., and professor of mental and nervous diseases at Yale University.

Dr. Ross testified that the state at the trial of Thaw was declaring the defendant knew the nature and quality of his act when he killed Stanford White, and knew the act was wrong. To the commission today the alienist declared that from what he had seen of Thaw and the writings he had examined, he was of the opinion that Thaw is not now capable of rightly understanding his own position, of appreciating the nature of the crime, or of rationally advising his counsel.

Dr. Ross explained at some length the twenty-four pages of suggestions made by Thaw to Mr. Dobson for his summing address and declared that they emanated from a diseased mind. The alienist said the suggestions made by Thaw indicated a delusional state of mind.

Did you think he had delusions when he committed the homicide? asked Chairman McCloskey.

Yes, replied the witness who went into an elaborate explanation of the difference between medical and legal insanity, declaring that Thaw was medically but not legally insane when he killed White.

Under questioning by Mr. Harrington, Dr. Ross said that Thaw's delusions were similar to those indicated in the letters which formed a part of the district attorney's hypothetical question of the trial.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The Thaw lunacy commission remained in session to consider its report after the examination of Thaw had been completed.

Mr. Jerome and counsel representing the defendant were notified that they were no longer required by the commission and there would be no communication of any sort with any one tonight. The commission undoubtedly will report to Justice Fitzgerald before the court convenes tomorrow morning.

NEW YORK, April 3.—At 3:37 it was announced that the examination of Thaw had been completed.

ARE ON TRAIL OF DETWEILER MAYOR ELECT GETS BIG VOTE

Burns' Sleuths Believe They Will Trap Wanted Man Soon.

Republican Candidate in Kansas City Scores Victory of Note.

TOLEDO, O., April 3.—According to a statement made last night by the detectives and agents of the San Francisco authorities now in Toledo working on the Detweiler case, A. K. Detweiler will be apprehended and on his way to San Francisco in forty-eight hours, unless the plans of the secret service men fail. They have secured positive information that Detweiler arrived in Toledo on Friday afternoon, March 22d, at 2 o'clock on the Western Express train, No. 23, from the East. He was partially disguised by a full beard grown while in Europe.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Detweiler, and upon their arrival here, they were driven directly to the home of his brother, George.

The day after his arrival, and the day on which the indictments of the San Francisco Grand Jury were made public here, Detweiler disappeared. The secret service officers state that they have traced Detweiler's movements since then, step by step, and it is almost impossible for him to elude them longer than forty-eight hours.

At the time of Detweiler's arrival in this city the indictments against him were not made public, hence the failure of the local police to apprehend him.

BILL AGAINST THE WHOLESOME BREWERS. LINCOLN, Neb., April 3.—A bill making it unlawful for brewers and wholesale liquor men to own saloons has passed both houses of the Nebraska Legislature and was signed by the Governor today.

KANSAS CITY, April 3.—Officials returns show the election of D. E. Cornell, Republican, as Mayor of Kansas City, Kas., by a plurality of 1218 over W. W. Ross, Democrat.

Mr. Cornell is a pioneer railroad man and civil engineer. In 1887 he had a part in the building of the Platte ditch in California.

The Mayor-elect served through the civil war. After the war he became general passenger agent of the Kansas Pacific, now a part of the Union Pacific system.

CALLED HER A CHAS. HEYER IS DIVORCED CHIPPY CHASER

Dr. Christensen's Trouble Now Brought Before the Court.

Hayward Brewer Could Not Get Along With His Wife.

After fighting in the courts for the past two years over their High street home in Alameda, which Dr. Edmund W. Christensen, a dentist of that town, claims was deeded to his wife while he was on his death bed under fraud, the case is now being called into the limelight of the civil courts for the third time. To add to their court experiences, Mrs. Florence B. Christensen has already obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce which was granted to her last January by Judge Ellsworth. She claimed in the complaint that was filed several months ago that the dentist had not supported her during their married life and he came home in temperate. The climax of the affair was that Mrs. Christensen's lawyer, in their Alameda home, was the fact that she claims Christensen applied the epithet of 'chippy chaser' to her."

The complaint filed today by Mrs. Christensen is to quiet the title of the property which has been the bone of contention in the family. Christensen alleged when he brought suit for a similar action, that the deed was made over to his wife when he was on his death bed, but on the condition that it would be recorded only in case of his death. He survived the sickness and despite the alleged agreement on what was supposed to be his death bed, he was not recorded. Mrs. Christensen recorded the document.

Dr. Christensen came back with a suit to obtain the property in his name, but the case is still in a legal entanglement which the wife is endeavoring to straighten out in the suit that was instituted today.

In the divorce decree, Mrs. Christensen was awarded the custody of the two minor children and $40 a month alimony.

HANDWRITING EXPERT TESTIFIES IN TRIAL. Carl Eisenheim, a handwriting expert, testified today in the divorce trial of George P. Brown, the Berkeley carpenter, who is accused of passing worthless checks on the banks in the college town. The trial has occupied the time in Superior Judge Ogden's court for the past few days and is likely to continue throughout the week for the defense have not yet called witnesses for their side of the case.

Wilhelmina Hoyer was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce this afternoon from Charles H. Hoyer, the wealthy Hayward brewer. Judge Waste signed the decree separating this prominent on the ground of desertion. Mr. Hoyer ran for supervisor in the Second District last fall but was defeated by a few votes, and afterward contested the election of his opponent, W. B. Bridge, the latter having won out.

The property settlement was agreed upon before the divorce action was commenced.

CONGRESSMAN KNOWLAND HONORED BY POSTAL MEN

Banquet Is Held and Pithy Speeches Mark Evening of Feasting and Pleasure.

Last night about ninety letter carriers of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda gave a complimentary dinner to Congressman Joseph R. Knowland in the banquet hall of the Gas Kitchen on Thirteenth street.

Besides the guest of honor, the following gentlemen sat at the banquet table as invited guests: Postmasters Paul J. Schaefer, Oakland; George Schmidt, Berkeley and Theodore W. Leydecker, Alameda; Assistant Postmasters Mauts of Berkeley and Harry M. Hammond of Oakland, and W. E. Dargie.

CARRIERS PRESENT.

Among those present were letter carriers Allen, Barker, Binkhead, Boggs, Cohen, Campbell, Bushman, Carlson, Ford, Gallagher, Harrison, Hendrickson, Hines, Kenney, King, Logan, Leber, Alabar, Mueller, Miley, H. Miller, Ed Miller, Nelson, Nelson, Nash, Rialley, Rohl, Spaulding, Scott, Sterling, West, Willie, Whitehouse, Webster, West, Merckham, Hines, O'Connor, Patten, Perkins, Thiel, Kaskin, Hestley, N. Noble, H. Hassard, Bailey, McMillan.

After an elaborate menu had been disposed of, Congressman Knowland read a letter from Senator George C. Perkins expressing his sincere regret that another engagement prevented him from being present to do honor to Congressman Knowland, whose public services generally and the work he did specially toward securing an advance in the pay of letter carriers were highly commended.

PITHY SPEECH.

Frank E. Burger, Secretary of the Letter Carriers Association, made a short but pithy speech of commendation of the letter carriers for the good work which Congressman Knowland had done in their behalf.

The toastmaster then called upon the guest of honor. Congressman Knowland was received with enthusiastic cheering. He spoke as follows:

"I feel that in being invited here tonight an unusual honor has been conferred upon me, an honor which is more keenly appreciated because of the kindly feelings which actuated your organization in extending the invitation which was wholly unexpected, and which was wholly undeserved. I feel that a representative deserves no particular credit for advocating a just cause, which is all I did in attempting to better the condition of the letter carriers and their families."

STATUS OF CARRIERS.

"The men in this service of the government are an intelligent class and you are entitled to know what they want to maintain this standard, which would have been impossible under the conditions existing prior to the passage of the Postoffice Appropriation Bill last month. No class of government employees come more directly in contact with the people than the letter carriers, and there is no class of employees from whom the people demand more intelligent service. We cannot expect the great corporations to deal justly with employees if the government sets the example of underpaying those who render it service."

CARRIERS' CAMPAIGN.

"The campaign on behalf of the letter carriers and clerks began with the convening of Congress and did not cease until the last days of the session. The contest was won by organized effort, your friends getting together, keeping in continual touch with their representatives of your national organization, and carrying on a campaign of education among those members of Congress who were either opposed or lukewarm. The matter was first referred to a subcommittee from the Committee on Postoffice and Postroads. They assured us that they were going to do something. They did something, but the measure they reported we found, after submitting it to the boys in the service was something in the nature of a gilded article. The committee adopted the report of the subcommittee. There was but one thing left for your friends to do and that was to attempt to amend the bill."

GERMAN CLUB GIVES SHOW

Deutsche Verein of Berkeley Is Entertained—Many Other Social Events.

BERKELEY, April 3.—The members of the Paudartasche, the youngest of the German clubs at the University, surprised and entertained their friends at a performance of the "Jugendliebe." The joint meeting of the two clubs was held at the residence of William E. Woolsey, 2222 Shattuck avenue, last evening, and attended by the members of the two organizations and their friends, between sixty and seventy being present. The house was tastefully decorated for the occasion, and the play was handsomely staged and well acted.

The cast was as follows:

Miss Florence Woolsey, Adelheid, her niece.
Miss Mattie Zander, Heinrich Roller.
Mr. Harold Bruce, Ferdinand von Bruck.
Mr. Carl E. Bell, Hildebrand von Bruck.
Mr. Harold P. Odd, Betty, his daughter.
Miss Catherine Howell.

One of the prettiest dinner and card parties of the season was that over which Mrs. G. L. Blair presided last night at her home, 2318 Grove street. The decorations were pretty and artistic. Ladies interspersed with laymen and pale green were used throughout the house. There were four prizes awarded. After the games a splendid dinner was served.

The first prize was won by the hostess, Mrs. Blair; the second went to Mrs. William Nieman, R. W. Taylor captured the mer's first prize, and W. E. Lloyd, second prize.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. William Nieman, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lloyd, Harry Langley, Mrs. Benton Langley, Ray Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Connor, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Blair.

The entertainment held by the Women's Relief Corps, Lookout Mountain No. 35, last evening in Odd Fellows Hall was largely attended and thoroughly enjoyed.

A musical and literary program was given: Piano solo, Miss Idding; recitation, Miss Evers Smith; The Hindoo Temple, Miss Lawrence; Molly Bitt, Carol Whitaker, Mildred Whitaker, Viola Scott; piano duet, Mrs. Burton and Mrs. Elliott; the Gay Impersonators, Louis Boswell, Albert Johnson, Thomas Seaton, Fred Beaudart; piano solo, Mrs. Idding; recitation, Miss Eva Darling.

Artistically arranged booths, decorated with the national colors and intertwined with garlands and flowers of ice-cream, candy and cake were presided over by Mrs. Flint, Mrs. Frick, Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Whitaker, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Cody, Mrs. Darling, A quilt made by the ladies was raffled off by Mrs. Beck and a good sum realized, won by Mrs. Patton.

Mrs. M. D. Craske of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting her sister, Mrs. F. R. Peterson of Oxford street. Mrs. Craske is an author of note and a writer of short stories. Her latest book is "Modern Monarchs" which deals with the public school problem as it exists in large cities.

Mark M. Hall, the artist, has taken a leave of absence from the University and has gone to Los Angeles for a short trip. When he returns he will engage in commercial art work.

A dozen friends who have named alternate Tuesday afternoons as a regular day were the guests of Mrs. Richard McCarthy yesterday. The afternoon hours were spent with thimbles and needles, and at the conclusion of the sewing a social chat over the tea tray was enjoyed. The members of the Tuesday Sewing Club were Mrs. Frank May, Mrs. Charles Gilman Hyde, Mrs. Bernard Echeverry.

He knew of no warlike class of men that the letter carriers were. No class of men in the public service was so close to the community and none were more deserving of being well paid. "You are never, never so near to that to which you are fairly entitled."

CARRIERS' SALARIES.

"United States letter carriers ought to get at least two per month. They are men entrusted with valuable mail matter for constant distribution and prompt delivery, and they are certainly entitled to receive as much as a policeman receives for arresting drunks. The work done by the letter carriers last year under the strenuous conditions existing was highly appreciated by the public. The letter carriers of Oakland worked well."

He closed his speech that it had always been a pleasure to assist the letter carriers in the past, and if they needed his services in the future, they could rely upon getting it.

Harry Miller recited "The First Shall Be Last" and the "Last Shall Be First" and the party broke up with roasting cheers for Knowland.

Tonight Mr. Knowland will deliver a lecture in Alameda on the Panama canal.

There was an enjoyable dance last night given by the Monday Night Dance Club in Wilkin's Hall. There was not a large number present, but those who went report a pleasant time.

The club will, in the near future, meet and rearrange, as some features of the present club are not satisfactory. It is the intention of the club to enlist about thirty people and to that end there will be a meeting in Wilkin's Hall some during the week. Invitations will be issued.

Those who are desirous of reorganizing are Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McKinnin, Dr. and Mrs. Billings and others.

"From the grammatical standpoint," said the fair maid with the lofty forehead, "which do you consider correct, 'I had rather go home' or 'I would rather go home'?"

"Neither," promptly responded the young man. "I'd much rather stay here."

rode by in a fine-looking horse. He asked me how I happened to be carrying such a heavy load. When I explained that I was helping two of my weaker companions he seemed very much pleased. "That night when we went into camp," he called me to his tent and again spoke of the occurrence. "It was a kind-hearted man and the incident which I regarded so lightly seemed to make an impression on him. He always recognized me as a friend after that. During the war I never forgot the kind words of that man. When I remembered that I was fighting against him and his cause I felt some of the sadness of those who were pitted against their own brothers in the struggle."

Prospects of the New Official Year.

The municipal government has entered on a new official year under the most favorable auspices. The mayor's inaugural address is saturated with the spirit of public enterprise and betterment. Nothing else was to have been expected from him, as it is strictly in keeping with his past record as a progressive public officer. Most of the betterments which he recommends in his inaugural address have received public endorsement. And in his re-election and the return of his associates in the Board of Public Works the people almost unanimously expressed the sentiment that those who had been capable of formulating an acceptable plan of public improvements were worthy of being entrusted with the responsibility of carrying it out.

The reorganization of the Council and the Board of Education promises a harmonious and co-operative municipal government for the next two years. There is enough of the old blood in both bodies, which has co-operated freely with the administration during the past official term, to warrant the belief that the administrative policy will receive unqualified support in the future.

Some of the suggestions of the mayor are not new. Hitherto a divided public sentiment on these subjects has manifested itself in the community and, whenever submitted to the people for their approval, they have been defeated. Popular disapproval in such instances has not been due to any real opposition to the improvements proposed, but to the plans and methods through which it was proposed to carry them out. There will doubtless be another referendum of these measures by the new government. As a large volume of new, enterprising, progressive and courageous blood has been injected into the veins of the community during the past two years, it is not at all improbable that municipal betterments which have in the past failed to receive popular approval at the polls, either because the proposed plans were deemed defective and the methods by which they were designed to be carried out were regarded as questionable, or because of undue timidity to incur the bonded indebtedness then which their consummation involved, it is not at all improbable that they may succeed now, if submitted in a rational and equitable form. The people of Oakland are no longer afraid of adding to the municipal debt for the acquirement of betterments which are of general public value, provided the plan of execution is clearly defined and based on fair and intelligent lines.

The new official year promises to be a memorable one in the history of the city. The latter has entered fairly and squarely on an era of progress and improvement, with an ambition to develop aroused which its people never before possessed in anywhere near the same degree. It has grown completely out of its past indifference. It is aiming to attain that eminence which natural conditions indicate clearly it should occupy. The new government has, therefore, greater responsibilities resting upon its shoulders than any of its predecessors were required to carry. But it enters upon its duties enjoying the fullest public confidence and the greatest popular faith that those duties and responsibilities will be performed in a perfectly satisfactory manner.

Detwiler seems to be the Flying Dutchman of the graft investigation.

Thornwell Mullally's reported confession indicates that he is off his trolley.

The San Francisco Star objects to self-confessed boddlers continuing to sit in the Board of Supervisors. The Star is hypercritical. Have we not been assured that they will be good dogs?

It is not clear that anybody was compelled to steal because the President solicited money for his campaign fund in 1904. Some millionaires have contributed to campaign funds out of their own pockets, but their example seems now to be regarded as pernicious.

The Democratic organs have been rather silent on the subject of alleged subservience to railroad influence since Governor Gillett signed the Cartright bill. This measure is not only severe on the railroads, but was introduced by a Democrat. By and by the Democratic editors will conveniently forget that a Republican Legislature passed the bill and a Republican Governor signed it.

When he returned to his home in Abilene, Kansas, after completing his term in a Missouri jail, former Senator Burton declared in a public speech that President Roosevelt had offered to pardon him the day after he was convicted. The President emphatically denies the allegation. Former Governor Odell of New York, former Senator W. E. Chandler of New Hampshire, Senators Bailey and Tillman and former Ambassador Bellamy Storer have all raised questions of personal veracity with Mr. Roosevelt, but the President said they lied and it went at that. Burton's word will not stand against the President's when all others failed to make good in a veracity contest with the strenuous chief executive.

Opening of Ebell's New Clubhouse.

The opening of the new Ebell clubhouse is an event of considerable local importance aside from the social stir it created. It is an evidence of intellectual growth and expansion, and a tribute to feminine capacity and enterprise. Not only is the new clubhouse a commodious and artistic structure, handsome in exterior and admirably adapted to its uses, but it is owned by the club, the members of which planned and constructed it. The reception last night showed the large place the Ebell Club fills in the social life of Oakland, while the interior of the new building gave evidence of the refinement and culture for which the club stands in the community.

Ebell is an institution. It was founded many years ago when Oakland was a comparatively small suburban city, and has become the pattern of many other women's organizations in different parts of the country. The name Ebell signifies a women's club of a distinctive type, indicative of ethical progress and the development of the finer side of the humanities. While other clubs of this type have achieved remarkable success, the parent organization still maintains an acknowledged supremacy, is still the leader as well as the progenitor of organizations formed to advance higher social and intellectual culture among women.

In a broad sense the Ebell is a social university. It combines the social with the educational, and while affording the conveniences of social intercourse on a high plane it is the means of drawing together women of serious minds with serious thoughts of life and its responsibilities, for study and a mutual interchange of ideas. The language, music, dramatic, literary and social science sections are so many schools of culture and enlightenment. They not only broaden the mental horizon of the softer sex, but enrich social life with solid and useful acquirements which react on the home life of the community. Grace, polish and learning go hand in hand with a higher appreciation of the true and beautiful. Women are taught here what they can accomplish within their sphere of action, how to accomplish it, and the interdependent relation the sexes occupy toward each other. Admirable and entertaining lectures supply interest and instruction of a varied and special kind that women have generally lacked. In many other ways the Ebell Club is contributing to advancement and the spread of knowledge. This work has meant a great deal to Oakland in the past; it will mean a great deal more in the future; hence the installation of the club in its elegant new home is an event deserving of special attention on the part of those interested in sociology.

Petty Jealousy of a Great Man.

San Davis, poet, philosopher, humorist, politician, raconteur and Tye of the Sazarc Lying Club ever since Fred Hart left Sageland, is the storm center of Nevada politics. It seems that Sam slipped in and copped a job that was created for somebody else. At the last session of the Legislature a bureau for advertising the State was created with a chief at a salary of $200 a month. Others got the bill passed and Sam got the appointment. Hence the grief and hard words. But Sam Davis will not mind. He never has minded being kicked at. Many years ago when he was a reporter on the Virginia Chronicle he was known as the Orthographical Fraud, but he only laughed at the nickname. Then he was dubbed the homeliest man between Truckee and Ogden, and took it as a compliment. When Fred Hart took his chronic thirst to San Francisco, Sam was unanimously elected the biggest liar in Nevada. He has retained the title as a testimonial of honor. It was next discovered that Sam's chronic fatigue was the result of packing around the biggest and ugliest pair of feet on the continent, and it gave him real pleasure to learn that he had another claim to fame. Sam's feet are wonders. They are all bumps, hummocks, bunions, corns and windshakes. The center of his foot makes a hole in the ground big enough to hold a telegraph pole. It is now known that the famous Carson Footprints were indentations due to Sam's extraordinary pedal extremities. Sam enjoyed immensely the theory of the scientists that these tracks were made by some pre-historic giant. When Sam drops into poetry, like the late lamented Silas Wegg, his feet splash through his verse like a behemoth going down a muddy lane. Yet the local editors are screaming because this versatile and unique genius has been selected to advertise the State for the paltry compensation of $200 a month. Why, Sam Davis is the biggest advertisement Nevada has got. It is base ingratitude not to recognize and reward his merits: His feet alone are worth the price of admission, while in amplitude and pervasiveness his gall dwarfs even the Comstock Lode. The wretched scribblers who are throwing inkballs at him don't know a good thing when they see it. Same does. And he goes for it like a duck for a June bug.

THE "EXAGGERATED EGO."

A lay lawyer said the other day: "An advanced female journalist, reporting at length the 'finer points of the Thaw trial,' fell into the odd habit of inaccuracy—as Thackeray puts it—when she wrote that the trial had 'enriched' the language with a new phrase, to wit: 'the exaggerated ego.' That phrase, as every one should know, is as old as the hills, and is a medico-legal term for 'swelled head'—a condition very prevalent at present—and seems as catchy as the disease is catching."—New York Press.

SOME PASSING JESTS.

"That young man is no account. I thought you told me there was good stuff in him."
"Well, I saw him eating lobster and drinking champagne."—Cleveland Leader.

"Yes, this tower goes back to William the Conqueror."
"No wonder they ain't satisfied with it; it's a shabby piece of work, and I'd return it myself if 'twas mine."—Baltimore Sun.

"Do you find it more economical to do your own cooking?"
"Yes, indeed. My husband doesn't eat half as much now as he did."—New York Press.

floral decorations added to the general harmony of color and furnishing.

The entire building is finished in Oregon pine. Entering from Harrison street, the private entrance to the club apartments, the large reception hall with its quaint brick fireplace opens into the library and reception rooms. On the second floor are the various section rooms. This part of the building may be shut off completely from the section intended for the use of the public.

Opening from the reception hall is the banquet room on the lower floor. A beautiful auditorium with a seating capacity of 300 is located above. A large dome is one of the attractive features of this spacious room. On the same floor are the music room and art gallery.

A promenade concert and dance with cards for those who wished to play, followed by a supper was the attractive program for the affair.

Mrs. Charles J. Woodbury welcomed the guests with a graceful speech and among the numbers on the program were a dancing bout given by Professor Pfund and his daughter, a group of songs by the choral section, under the direction of Paul Staudenroff, a picturesque number was the fifteenth century dance, which a dozen of the younger set gave in costume. Among those taking part in the pretty figures were Miss Lois Beckwith, Miss Rosalie Ogden, Miss Edith Benjamin, Miss Helen Dabney, Miss Genevieve Owen, Miss Martha Earl, Miss Grace Ewing, Allen, Maui, Gerald Meigs, Clarence Ogden, Kinzie Miller, Lloyd Gilmour, Stanley Powell, Frank Harrison.

Mrs. Hazel Gilbert McKay, a gifted pupil of Alice Gates, sang three exquisite numbers, including the aria from "Le Nozze di Figaro" (Mozart), "Doh Vieni," and "Valzer di Musetta" from La Boheme (Puccini) and a dainty Nevin song for an encore.

CITY AND COUNTY ARE AGOG AT CONTEST.

"As usual, THE TRIBUNE leads in enterprise," writes a Taft & Pennoyer clerk to this newspaper; and she goes on to say: "The summer months of 1907 will see shirtwaist novelties in Oakland that will be very chick. Our stock now contains samples which are of designs far prettier than I can describe. This is to be an arm-display season, in a more telling way than ever, and so you certainly hit the nail on the head when you set about arousing rivalry as to shapeliest arm and most effective pose."

"That the ladies are deeply interested in your attempt to discover the handsomest arm in Alameda county is evident by the talk I overhear among our customers. Your offer of a first prize to consist of $60 worth of silk stockings is very liberal, but it seems to me that, if I am lucky enough to be the one to win, I would prefer to have $30 of that outlay expended for a hat. Possibly you will be disposed to permit that alternative when the time comes. You know a hat shows, and as for the hose, why you may be aware that this town has got a 'flat-iron' building, same as New York city—I refer to the Union Savings Bank skyscraper. Anyway, dear TRIBUNE, your idea of arm comparisons is all right."

From a portrait painter in San Francisco comes this comment and advice: "I may not be a Benjamin West or a Gilbert Stuart in my 'miniature' productions. Of course, I am ambitious to be remembered in history as one just as skillful as either of those immortals. However, my ambition is my own private conceit. Now, let me tell you that your tourney to establish identity of the finest arms in your city and county is bound to stimulate art love among your many readers. The arm can be a wonderfully beautiful object, and it is possible to pose a subject so that both the arms can assume more than a hundred graceful phases. I may send you over some sketches of varied poses."

"Your determination to have pictured arms bare to the shoulder is correct. That scope allows the natural features of forearm, elbow, upper arm, shoulder and neck to be distinct and in harmonious association relatively, which may afford positive gratification to the beholder. I expect a goodly array of round arms and oval arms will be submitted for approval. There are types of rounded arms which one rarely discerns, but you may chance upon an arm of that contour, the taper and general symmetry of which will make the whole world rejoice if

POETESS GETS DIVORCE BECAUSE HUBBY JEERED Ridiculed Her Verse and Mocked Art

TOLEDO, April 3.—Mrs. Ida Eckert Lawrence, called the poet laureate of Ohio, has been granted a divorce from her husband, Fred Lawrence. The grounds for the divorce were mainly that he did not pay tribute to her artistic temperament; that he mocked at her art in all its forms, principally that of writing verse, and that he made special attacks upon her own personal work.

Mrs. Lawrence has achieved considerable local fame through her poetical works, and she it was who wrote the ode which was delivered at the launching of the battleship Ohio.

Her testimony was to the effect that Mr. Lawrence virtually conducted a press bureau devoted entirely to articles against verse-making, and that he would select certain of these, lay them on her desk and proceed to impress upon her the foolishness of spending time in such a fashion; all of which, Mrs. Lawrence declares, was the most cruel form of punishment that could be inflicted upon her.

GROOM WAITED TWO HOURS AT CHURCH FOR HIS BRIDE

NYACK, N. Y., April 3.—Otto Froelich and Miss Mabel Thompson were to be married a few days ago. Froelich appeared at St. Paul's Church, this town, at the hour set. He waited an hour, he waited forty-five minutes longer, and then a messenger appeared with a telegram from the young woman. It read:

"I have changed my mind and cannot marry you."

Froelich is a hopeful young man, and says he will yet win Miss Thompson.

BRIDE SAID 'MARCH' AND POLICE CHIEF QUILTS JOB

Mrs. Garwood Thought Location Too Slow

PHILADELPHIA, April 3.—After looking over fashionable Elkins Park, Mrs. E. S. Garwood, wife of the newly appointed chief of police of Cheltenham township, decided that she didn't exactly like the place.

Garwood, who was a lieutenant in the State Constabulary, was appointed at the March meeting of the Township Commissioners, to succeed Chief of Police Saddington, whose resignation goes into effect today.

The Commissioners were sure they would like him and Garwood was sure he would like the place. When he arrived he brought his young wife and half a dozen trunks with him, engaging board at the York Road Hotel.

It wasn't long before Mrs. Garwood made up her mind that the York Road was no place for her. It was entirely too slow, sleepy and rural. As they have been married only a few months, her husband had not the heart to dispute her orders, and, as soon as she said "March," he resigned and packed the trunks again. The commissioners are now looking about for another chief. They say they have a good one in mind, and they think his wife won't object to suburban life.

HOMELESS 26 IN VERY DEEP FINANCIAL WATERS

Members Sued by Woman Who Holds Note

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 3.—Hundreds of members of the virtually defunct "Homeless 26" have been sued by Mrs. Ola L. Williams, wife of S. M. Williams, national secretary of the once popular social organization. The suits mark another chapter in the dissolution of the organization.

Mrs. Williams holds a note for $700, given by the officers of the organization, that amount having been advanced by her husband several months ago, the money being used to tide the society over a financial crisis. The suits are brought to recover from the different members and were filed before Justice of the Peace R. J. Butz, of Benavon.

Already over 200 summonses have been served by constables, and the hearings will take place Thursday.

SHOOTS WOMAN, THEN BECOMES HER HUSBAND

Faces Murder Charge—Cupid Is Alibi

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Pa., April 3.—Miss Emma Fuenfsteuck and Charles

Renninger, a Spanish-American War veteran, were married a few days ago by the Rev. William Strohmeler. They were attended by the bride's brother, William Fuenfsteuck, and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Tillie Renninger.

The marriage is an interesting sequel to an almost fatal accident. Upon the bridegroom's discharge from the United States army last year he returned from the Philippines to this place and became engaged to Miss Fuenfsteuck.

One day last summer, while showing his skill at targets at his fiancée's home, Renninger accidentally shot Miss Fuenfsteuck, who for a month hovered between life and death. Upon her recovery the girl's father entered a charge of murder against the prospective bridegroom. The charge was never pressed in court, because Renninger's fiancée always believed the shooting an accident.

The parents were finally prevailed upon to give their consent, and the happy wedding followed.

WIVES ARE BOUGHT WITH QUAILS AT LAKE NYANZA

After Being Snared Birds Are Traded

Quail are plentiful at Lake Nyanza, says the Wide World Magazine, and after being snared in the grass by the natives they are kept in small wicker cages strung on a long pole stuck in the ground. When a sufficient number of quail have been collected they can be exchanged with a neighbor—like coupons—for wives.

THIS WOMAN IS PERFECT MISTRESS OVER HOUNDS

Can Follow the Chase as Lively as Any

Women masters of hounds, although not by any means unknown in Ireland, are still sufficiently few to excite the general interest. The latest woman to enter the ranks of the masters is Mrs. Loftus Bryan of Bormount, Enniscorthy, who was recently placed at the head of the Bree Harriers, a well known County Wexford pack. Mrs. Bryan and her husband, Captain Loftus Bryan, and their children, without doubt, constitute the "sportingest family" in what is undoubtedly the "sportingest" country in the world.

Mrs. Bryan, who is herself a Wexford woman, has for years and long before her marriage, been prominent in Wexford hunting circles. A graceful figure on horseback, always well mounted on hunters invariably bred and trained by herself, she is always in the front rank of the chase, taking the most difficult obstacles with the ease and security of an accomplished and discreet horsewoman.

The Bree Harriers are an old established pack, and one which has always been popular both with followers of the hunt and with the farmers. The good will of the latter is, of course, indispensable to the success of any hunt, and this Mrs. Bryan has in full measure. Not alone are hered wilder not known, but the farmers do everything in their power to preserve hares, and the young dogs are all "walked" by them.

The Bree pack is at present quartered at Bormount Manor, Captain and Mrs. Bryan's beautiful residence on the banks of the Slaney. Bormount is only a few miles from the historic old town of Enniscorthy.

THREE INSULTERS ROUTED BY BRAVE YOUNG WOMAN

Mows Down Hoodlums With Her Fists

CLEARFIELD, Pa., April 3.—A woman of this place recently knocked down three men and made it possible for one policeman to gather in four men who had insulted her. Mrs. Effie Dale was on the way to her home on the West Side and when a block away from the house she observed that four men were following her.

She had arrived in front of her home when the men insulted her, and, without screaming for help, she turned suddenly and proceeded to mow down the ruffians. She sent three of them sprawling in the mud, and every time one got up she hit him again. The noise made by the men who were being punished brought a man to her assistance, and he took care of the fourth individual. Policeman Stoner arrived on the scene, and X. Beede, J. Beede, Ira Heyland and Louis Parish were taken to jail.

SELECTION OF JURORS CAUSES AN ARGUMENT

Great Care Is Being Taken in the Choice of Those Who Will Try Abe Ruef.

ness stated that he did not think his had.

Ach then referred to the time when Ruef had removed Henry from the position of Assistant District Attorney and had appointed himself in the vacancy. He asked Deperu if he had commented upon that alleged removal and the talesman replied that he did not think he had.

"Is it not a fact," asked Ach, "that you declared it to be an outrage?"

"It is not," replied Deperu.

Ach then sought to introduce certain articles on the subject in the Chronicle.

Johnson objected to the introduction of the files on the ground that they were discernible by other members of the jury who themselves might be examined with respect to their qualification. He held the files were irrelevant and immaterial and he requested that Ach take his seat instead of standing in front of the jury, and that he ask his questions from his seat.

WHAT ACH SAYS.

Ach stated that no court could pass upon the materiality of the article until the same was read before the court and the jury. He said he would return to his seat and there read the articles.

Attorney Johnson said Ach could do neither one nor the other. The court could not allow such a proceeding which would tend to the disqualification of jurors other than the one under examination.

Ach said if the juror should answer that he believed the articles true and that a correct report had been made, no court would hold that such a talesman would be qualified to serve on a jury.

JUDGE RULES.

Judge Dunne ruled that Ach would have to take his seat at the table and that he would, instead of reading the articles in full, ask questions tending to know whether or not the juror had read an article touching the fight in which Henry and Ruef had taken part.

Ach then asked Deperu if he had read an article in the Chronicle telling about Ruef deposing Henry as Assistant District Attorney and appointing himself in his stead.

Deperu said he did not.

"Did you read in any articles in the Chronicle or Bulletin any statement regarding the conduct of Ruef," asked Ach.

"I did not," was the reply.

Witness admitted that he had read attacks on Ruef in the several papers, but that the attacks had made no impression on his mind.

THE CONFESSIONS.

"You read," said Ach, "that certain Supervisors had confessed, that Gallagher said he had received the money from Ruef, as also other statements of the same kind. Did it create an impression that Ruef was an honest or a dishonest man?"

"If the facts were true, it would perhaps have produced some effect."

"Don't you now believe that Ruef is a corrupt man in politics and public affairs?"

"I don't know anything one way or the other on the subject," was the reply.

"What is your present belief? Do you believe him innocent?"

"If I should take the newspaper reports, I should not think him innocent."

"But do you believe them?"

"I can't say that the reports in the newspapers are true."

"You believe that many of the Supervisors were bribed and that Gallagher got the money to bribe them with, from Ruef, don't you?"

"I don't know."

"Is it not a fact that at this moment you believe Ruef guilty of the charges laid at his door?"

"If I believed the newspaper reports I certainly should feel that way."

"You now believe that Ruef has been properly indicted?"

"Yes."

"You would carry that belief with you into the jury box, wouldn't you?"

"Yes."

"And you would have that opinion with you when you were hearing testimony, wouldn't you?"

"Yes."

"Assuming that to be the case you would not want to be tried by a man feeling toward you as you feel toward Mr. Ruef."

"I would not."

"No matter how you might try, your opinion as to the guilt of Mr. Ruef would continue with you through the trial? It would take evidence to remove that impression?"

"Yes."

A CHALLENGE.

Ach then challenged Deperu for bias under paragraphs 1 and 2 of Section 1073 of the political code.

The challenge was denied by Johnson. "It is denied," said Johnson, "because the juror stated that his opinion was only one-sided and that it was founded on what appeared in the public prints. That is a fact, is it not?" asked Johnson of Deperu.

"It is," replied the talesman.

"Now, regardless of the fact that you have stated that you have formed an opinion, still you think you could give the defendant a fair and impartial verdict?" asked Johnson.

"I do," replied Deperu.

"You say it would require evidence to remove that opinion?"

"Yes."

"If evidence should be adduced to show the innocence of Ruef could you give him a favorable verdict?"

"I could."

"If the evidence failed to show the guilt of Ruef, you would not vote to convict him, would you?"

"I would not."

"The challenge is denied," said Johnson, "under section 1070."

"What do you mean?" asked Ach.

"You told me that you would carry your opinion into the jury room. You told Mr. Johnson that you could give a fair verdict. That is a different story."

"I meant I would hold the opinion until it was changed," replied Deperu.

Johnson was disposed to argue in favor of retaining Deperu, but Judge Dunne declared he would allow the challenge, and Deperu was excused.

KNOWS MARK.

J. H. Dembrell, who resides at 1512 Broadway, was next placed under examination. He was questioned by District Attorney Langdon. He said he had resided in San Francisco for thirty-one years. He knew John Marks. No opinion which Marks might entertain regarding Ruef would affect his stand in the case if he should be selected as a juror.

He could give the defendant a fair and impartial trial. Dembrell was turned over to Ach and the latter propounded practically the same questions which were asked by Deperu yesterday.

Witness knew nothing about any of the French restaurants nor the owners of the same. He was also unacquainted with any of the guards in the employ of Riller Bleggy, who has Ruef in custody. He admitted that he was a fellow member with District Attorney Langdon in the San Francisco Lodge of Elks.

"Suppose," said Ach, "there should be sharp conflict between one of these French restaurant men and Mr. Ruef, would you give the defendant a fair trial?"

"I would."

"Suppose there would be a difference between the defendant and some other witness, would you give the defendant the benefit of the doubt?"

"I would."

"Would you hold out for that idea, regardless of how long you might be locked out of the jury room or the fear of being criticised by the press for holding out under those circumstances?"

"If I thought I was right, I would hold out as long as it was necessary to do so."

"Ever though your business should be affected?"

"Yes."

"If you had a reasonable doubt as to whether Malant had paid Ruef $1175 as an attorney's fee or as extortion, would you still give the defendant the benefit of the doubt, regardless of the fact that report might show that Ruef had committed five or other crimes?"

"If I had a reasonable doubt in that point, I would give the benefit of it to the defendant."

"Have you any set ideas on the value of a professional man's services?"

"I have not."

"Do you understand that a professional man has a right to place a value on his services, the same as a business man has to place a value on his wages?"

"Yes."

"Do you understand that there might be a great difference of opinion as regards the value of professional services even among professional men?"

"There might be."

"Suppose an attorney should agree to do only a certain kind of work and then not unless on an annual salary, would you have an prejudice against an attorney who should demand an annual salary?"

"I would have no prejudice. It would be a matter between attorney and client."

"Have you any prejudice against Ruef because of his connection with the French restaurants?"

"No, sir."

"Do you know H. W. Hutton, former Police Commissioner?"

"No, sir."

"Do you know James D. Phelan?"

"Not personally."

"Are you a member of the Citizens' Alliance?"

"I am not."

"Have you any prejudice, personal or political against Ruef?"

"I have not."

"If the Court thought that the defendant was guilty, would that change your own opinion?"

"I would be governed by the evidence."

"Are you conscious of any feeling in your mind which would prevent you from acting as a fair and impartial juror?"

"I am satisfied that I could not as a fair and impartial juror, but it would inconvenience me to serve as juror in this trial."

JUDGE MELVIN TO ATTEND FUNERAL

In order that Judge Henry A. Melvin might attend the funeral of his former classmate and friend, Perry Hayne, who died in Montecito yesterday, Department 5 of the Superior Court adjourned until Monday morning. The trial of Chin Ah, the alleged Chinese gambler, went over until that time. It was at the request of aged Mrs. Hayne that Judge Melvin hurried to the southern town to attend the last sad rites of his colleague.

SAY OFFICER THREATENED THE GIRLS POLICEMAN IS UNDER ARREST

WOMEN FACE LEVELLED GUN

Striking Laundrywomen Make Serious Charge Against City Deputy Constable.

"Th shoot like a dog any girl who tries to keep her hands from going to work."

With a revolver grasped tightly in his hand a deputy constable of Oakland is said to have threatened in these words the lives of the striking laundry girls who beseiged the Troy Laundry of Berkeley this morning between 10 and 11 o'clock. He is also accused of striking Miss May Hampton, the president of the local union.

About one hundred girls from Oakland and San Francisco had gathered on Dwight Way before this non-union laundry run by A. L. Wolfe, when the deputy constable is said to have put in his appearance. He was later joined by six Berkeley Policemen.

As the Laundry Company had secured an injunction against the Alameda County Union, the San Francisco girls tried upon exercising the full responsibility of calling upon the employees to quit work and join the union.

"We had persuaded six girls to join us," said Miss May Hampton, the president of the local union to a TRIBUNE reporter this morning when a deputy constable appeared on the scene, saying that he was there to shoot "like a dog" any girl who interfered with the Troy laundry employees.

"STUCK ME"

"The Oakland girls were all standing against us, and the San Francisco girls were taking away any of the Troy laundry girls they could induce to listen to them. I told the constable that he wasn't man enough to shoot a dog and he struck me a blow with his fist."

He then walked into the arms of the girls, knocking them right and left. One of the girls picked up a brick and threw it at the constable. Six Berkeley policemen were called to the scene by the Troy Laundry management, but they refused to interfere with the girls.

I believe that if we were allowed to talk with the Troy Laundry girls we could induce every one of them to join the union. As it is we have taken away one-fourth of their hands."

Last January the union employees of the Troy Laundry struck for higher wages and shorter hours, but Wolfe succeeded in operating his plant with out-union help. The strike was broken down and since then there has not been a single union operator on the payroll of the Troy Laundry. It is alleged that the girls will make another attempt to tie up this plant, Berkeley's only steam laundry.

CAUSE OF TROUBLE.

One of the non-union employees of the Troy Laundry was accused by a Tribune reporter this morning of saying that the trouble was precipitated by the capture and detention of Miss Amelia Meyers, a girl who was about to report for work. The constable, it was said, tried to force Miss Meyers to work at the Troy Laundry. It is then, the girls claim, he drew his revolver and pointed it at the delegation of striking girls, threatening to shoot if they did not refrain from interfering further with the Troy Laundry employees as they reported for work.

The striking laundry workers met again at 10 o'clock this morning at the headquarters of the Laundry Workers' Council. In behalf of the council, A. E. Elder offered the Laundry Workers' Union, the use of the hall throughout the strike. The offer was accepted, with a resolution of thanks.

Secretary Gray said at the close of the meeting that $12,000 had already been raised toward the fund for an independent laundry plant. He expects to have $20,000 by next Saturday. A garage, whose name he refused to divulge has offered to give a building in exchange for stock in the union-owned and operated laundry.

DELAY IN REPAIRING BROKEN RAILROAD LINE

SACRAMENTO, April 3.—Despite every effort of the Southern Pacific Railroad company to hasten the repair of the big washout on its main line between this city and Davisville, it was admitted at local headquarters last night that it would be at least three weeks before the line would be open.

The delay is due to the fact that the company has been unable to secure the necessary material and labor to complete the repairs in time.

CONFLAGRATION RESULTS IN MILLION-DOLLAR LOSS

Main Gas and Electric Station in San Francisco Is Burned to Ground.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—The work of repairing the light and power station of the San Francisco Gas and Electric Company which was almost destroyed by fire last night was begun this morning by a force of 200 men, and it is expected that some light will be furnished tonight.

Three of the generators are damaged beyond repair, two are temporarily disabled, but the other five, when connected with outside reserves will be able to supply almost the normal output in a very short time.

The United Railroads will not be affected by the fire, as the lines from both their outside power houses are now in working order. The recent storm caused several breaks in the wires leading from these stations, and during the time these were being repaired the power was furnished by the gas company.

William Mullen, an evangelist and horse tamer, living at 625 East Valdez street, Oakland, was attending a sale at Stuart's horse market on Valencia street, when the fire started, and the lights went out. Mullen turned the horse sale into a revival meeting and preached to the gathered buyers until lights were secured and the sale could proceed.

Heroes labored in the extinguishing of the blaze. When the third story was reached five firemen were pinned under the wreckage, four being seriously injured and the fifth fatally hurt. The rescuing of these men, amid blazing oil, was the work of heroes.

The injured are: Lieutenant C. Kelleher, Engine 25, believed to be fatally hurt internally and suffering from suffocation and innumerable cuts and other injuries.

Captain Thomas J. Murphy, Engine 29, minor painful injuries, especially about the head.

Lieutenant Hayden, Engine 27, abrasions and contusions.

Lieutenant J. J. Meyer, Engine 27, minor burns and other injuries.

Lieutenant John Curley, Engine 25, cuts and bruises.

There were half a dozen men in the building at 7:30 o'clock, when the detonation that was heard for blocks, a pipe leading from one of the immense boilers to the apparatus on the third floor blew up. Chief Engineer Lane, who was on the third story, made a jump to escape, but he was killed.

In the meantime, on the ground floor, five mechanics were seeking the open air. Within a moment the atmosphere had become impenetrable. The lights had gone out, the men had nothing to guide them but instinct and memory.

And then, when it seemed they would forever be seeking in the darkness for a light, showed them the way. It was the light of the flames, and one of the men, who was a fireman, found a window and descended by a fire escape.

BOILER EXPLODES.

Scarcely had the men got out of the building than the big boilers in the basement exploded. The shock made the burning building rock.

The isolation of the site made the plant difficult of access to the fire apparatus. Five alarms brought apparatus for miles.

Not until the fire was well under control was the safety of the immense Spreckels refinery, situated almost adjoining the electric plant, assured. The fire department was handicapped by the lack of sufficient hydrants, but lines were run from the bay, a short distance off.

From almost the moment that the boiler blew the building was enveloped in a mass of flame until the walls toppled with a terrifyingly loud crash, one of the most magnificent spectacles. As the boilers burst, flooding the structure with steam, the play of the light upon the mass of vapor was exquisite. Then the tangling of the tremendous power lines caused spurt after spurt of pyrotechnics. On the top of the house, the gas tanks filled with crude fuel oil caught fire. A blazing coat of petroleum ran down the side of the structure, eating its way and spreading destruction.

IN AN INFERNO.

On this roof were five firemen. When the building beneath them was a sea of flame and the tanks creaked of dazzling lakes that rushed over the brim in fiery falls, these men stood by their posts. Frequently so intense was the heat, they were compelled to wet themselves from the hose. The five showed no sign of giving up the fight. Then the roof fell.

How any of them escaped with their lives in that inferno is one of the mysteries that firemen do not like to answer. One by one they were extinguished by their companions and the police and taken to the Potrero Emergency hospital. With the exception of Lieutenant Kelleher their injuries are not serious.

Car lines were stopped by the fire, and the night life continued—where it did continue—in the flare of gas and the flicker of the electric plant assured.

Lines were given in the theaters. Fillmore, Golden Gate, and Sutter were avenues of shadow. Hotels, clubs and restaurants were forced to use makeshifts. Within an hour after the start of the blaze the long-distance power from Blue Lakes had been thrown off, but the problem of distributing this has now to be faced virtually from the beginning.

Known as Station A of the Gas and Electric company, leaves few plants to supply the city. The United Railroads has two power houses. There is another plant, formerly independent, on the Bay Shore near the Six Mile House. But the destroyed station was the greatest of them all.

TO SUPPLY LIGHTS.

John A. Britton, secretary of the city, has been thought of by many as the power to the greater part of San Francisco by this evening. "Our power house

DRIVERS MAY CALL STRIKE

Threatened Action Resting Upon Immediate Decision of City Council.

Unless the new City Council takes action at its next meeting raising the pay of drivers of street sprinkling carts from $4 to $6 a day, it is likely there will be no street sprinkling in the immediate future. Drivers have demanded $6 a day for the work.

In speaking of the outlook this morning, Street Superintendent Ott said: "I have a few sprinkling carts running, because I have promised the drivers that the Council would act on their demand at its next meeting. If this is not done, why, they will stop work, that's all."

"The city pays $4 a day for driver, one horse and cart, and those using two horses think they are worth more. Much greater revenue can be had by them by working for outside parties hauling debris and rubbish, and they will get their pay weekly and no discount. For the city it comes monthly and it has to be discounted. If the Council takes no action then the people will have to suffer with the dust."

CHINESE WANTED IN SOUTH ARRESTED HERE

Chong Chong, a Chinaman, was arrested this morning by Detectives Hodgkins and Green, at the corner of Fifth and Webster streets, on a warrant from Los Angeles. It is stated that Chong engaged in the seed and nursery business in Los Angeles, securing about $500 in stock, to be sold on commission.

He did a land-office business while the stock lasted, his sales being made rapidly. The money looked good to the Oakland and he failed to give any of it to his backer.

Chong left Los Angeles, but his movements were followed, resulting in word being sent to the Oakland police with request that he be located and arrested. Los Angeles officers will come after the prisoner.

IDENTITY OF DROWNED MAN IS ASCERTAINED

Coroner Tisdale has established the identity of the man whose body was found in Lake Merritt Monday. His name was T. G. Jones, formerly salesman in the wash goods department of the San Francisco store.

On account of his habits, it is said, he was discharged and later ejected from his lodgings. He was single, had no relatives that can be located.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TO PRODUCE "PATIENCE"

FRED KROLL, who plays the part of the "Major" in the play to be presented by the Oakland High School at the Macdonough May 2.

Pleasing Play Will Be Placed on Boards at Macdonough Theater Next Month.

"Patience" which is to be produced at the Macdonough Theater Thursday evening, May 2d, by the students of the Oakland High School, is now rapidly rounding into form. The final selection of the cast has been made and the chorus is showing up splendidly. The chorus will consist of sixty members, making a cast of eighty and from the present appearance of things, a very creditable performance will be produced.

Besides its cast "Patience" has a splendid orchestra of some fifteen pieces, which consists mostly of high school pupils and is under the leadership of Miss Madeline Todd. Miss Todd, who graduated from Oakland High School a short time ago, has always been recognized as one of the most talented young violinists around the bay.

SAYS SPRING VALLEY IS FINANCIALLY CRIPPLED

Captain A. F. Payson Tells San Francisco Grand Jury That the Company Is Facing Ruin.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Captain A. F. Payson, president of the Spring Valley Water Company, appeared before the Grand Jury yesterday afternoon and denied the allegations that have been made that his corporation had offered or given any "bribe" money to the members of the Board of Supervisors or Abraham Ruef. It is also said that Captain Payson told the inquisitorial body that the Spring Valley Company was facing ruin, being financially crippled.

The degree of forfeiture passed by the supervisors, Captain Payson asserted, had impaired the credit of the Spring Valley to the extent that it could not sell its bonds. Captain Payson had been summoned before the Grand Jury to tell what he knew about the dealings of his company with the supervisors. His testimony, it is said, served to convince the members of the Grand Jury that no "bribe" money had been offered. After denying the assertions that have been made, Captain Payson said:

Big New York Blaze Endangers Many Lives—Does Big Damage.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Fire caused by a spark from one of the boiler-rooms in the excavation for the McAdoo tunnel terminal at Dey, Fulton and Church streets, early this morning, did damage estimated at $50,000 and a delay of thirty days in the completion of the work of the huge terminal buildings will result. Five men were killed during the progress of the fire by being caught in one of the deep caissons, two of them so seriously that it was necessary to take them to a hospital. These severely injured are: John O'Hara and Edward Murphy, tunnel workers.

The fact that an offer of three million dollars had been made for the Temple Emanuel-Eli's property in Fifth Avenue and Forty-third street, caused some excitement in real estate circles, which was not diminished by the news that the offer had been rejected.

GAMBLERS' DIRECTORY

The chiefs of police of the European capitals have prepared a directory of gamblers' hide-outs, containing the names of the professional gamblers and croupiers of Europe. This directory is in the form of a small illustrated book, and it has been placed with the authorities of all the principal cities and resorts of Europe. Thousands of names are contained in the index, among which are a number of high-sounding titles such as prince, marquis, count, etc. Some of these titles are known to be fictitious while others are genuine.

THE TOILET OF ANTS.

"Ants have fine and coarse combs, sponges, hair brushes, and soap. They are remarkably clean." The speaker was a nature student. He bent over the artificial ants' nest, or formicary, that stood on his table under glass. "Watch this lady making her toilet," he said. "She won't mind." The little black ant seemed to be carefully tying and untying knots in herself. The small black body twisted and turned. The tough little black limbs darted through the air. "That is her fine-tooth comb she is using now," explained the student. "It is affixed to the tip of the foreleg. It has a short handle, a stiff back, and 65 fine teeth. Nothing can escape it. Now she is sponging her back. Yes, the tongue is her sponge, the flat surface of the tongue. The tongue's edges are her brush. They are equipped with hemispherical bosses—short stiff, blunt bristles. See her brushing her left foreleg with it. Doesn't it work admirably?"

EARLY NORTHWEST VOYAGES.

Beginning with the American discoveries of John Cabot in 1497, the search for the Northwest passage was for many years the object of rival expeditions from Denmark, England, France and Portugal. It was Fro-bisher, however, who in 1576-78 first gave a distinct national character to the quest. John Davis, of Davis strait, followed in three voyages, 1585-88, and then, in 1606, came the illustrious and hapless Henry Hudson, whose motto was that explorers should "achieve what they had undertaken or else give reasons wherefore it will not be." The search from the Atlantic side closed for two centuries with the voyage of a great seaman, William Baffin, who, in a tiny boat of fifty-five tons, with a miserable equipment, but an undaunted heart, attained in 1616 the highest north in the western hemisphere, 77 degrees 45 minutes N., and discovered three radiating sounds, Jones, Smith and Lancaster, the last being the eastern entrance to the long sought passage.—A. SPEAKING OF ROSES.

Among rose-growing countries California stands pre-eminent. Nowhere else does the softening influence of luxuriance and perfection of form and color as in our own country climate. In this respect no section of our great State is more truly enthroned as the "Queen of the Flowers" by the admiring public, whether they visit the lands crowned upon by the majestic Mount Shasta or bask in the balmy zephyrs that are wafted inland from the bay of San Diego. There is no question but the determining influence in the magic development of bloom is superiority of climate. Rose plants are sent to us from all lands, and it matters little what their "race, color or previous condition of servitude," when as their blossoms display "a riotous" display. The original type of roses, those simple little roses so familiar in the wilds of all parts of our country, have been culled and crossed with the wild roses from everywhere. The present type is somewhat obscure; but we do know that from these humble types the glorious horticultural have come. The progress of rose breeding is still onward and upward, toward roses better in every respect than those that have held the public's favor in the past decade. In this great work of plant breeding California is well to the fore, and many are the victories over the forces of nature that are each year recorded for our growers, for it is not along the lines of least resistance that the most satisfactory development of the rose comes, and many thousands are thrown away ere one be found worthy. Papa Gontier, though not far removed from the wild types in that it is semi-double, is nevertheless well-nigh perfect in form, color and general adaptability, for it has been a grand rose for all parts of the Pacific Coast and considered equally good lately heard that a new rose called Lady Battersea, a stiff back, and 65 fine teeth. Nothing can escape it. Now she is sponging her back. Yes, the tongue is her sponge, the flat surface of the tongue. The tongue's edges are her brush. They are equipped with hemispherical bosses—short stiff, blunt bristles. See her brushing her left foreleg with it. Doesn't it work admirably?"

TEX RICKARD MAY BID FOR SQUIRES-OBRIEN BATTLE

Looks Like the Most Available Card for Topliner at Ely for Independence Day—Gossip.

By EDDIE SMITH
With the arrival of Bill Squires from Australia and the lack of a chance to land the Gans-Nelson fight it would not surprise the writer to hear from Tex Rickard with a good bid for an O'Brien-Squires fight for his fourth of July card for Ely.

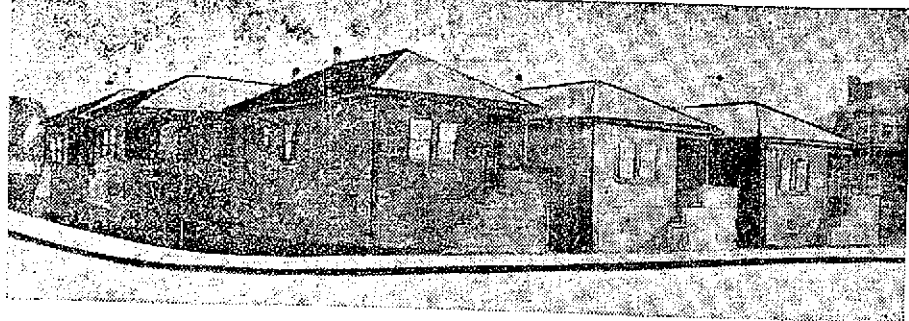

After the Gans-Nelson fight at Tonopah O'Brien, who was at the fight made a great hit with the mining men in Nevada with his individual supremacy talk and the assortment of always ready 'bull' he spent about three weeks with Rickard in going over the country with him and in that time he did not convince the mining man that he would make no mistake by matching him with some good man in Nevada, then it must be admitted that Tex wears an armor plate covering to guard himself against the "bull".

James Coffroth is negotiating with Mike (Twin) Sullivan and Joe Thomas in view of matching them for this month's attraction for San Francisco. It is supposed that Coffroth will get this month's permit and it was the general impression that he would give us something of a high order in the pugilistic line in keeping with his past record, but the time is so short that he hardly has the time to promote a show of any magnitude. It was his original intention to have Butt and Gans for his opening attraction but as James Edward showed no disposition to sign articles it was agreed that he was not anxious to clash with the negro Sullivan and Joe Thomas will make a good substitute, however, and the fans will no doubt take to it very kindly. Sullivan in his fight with Gans and Billy Gardner in San Francisco satisfied the fans that he is a fighter of class. Of course he was beaten by Gans but that is no disgrace for to my way of thinking we have no fighter within twenty pounds of the negro's weight that has a chance with him at catch weights and it is conceded among the promoters that it does not hurt the drawing ability of a fighter much to be beaten by the colored gent. Thomas is certainly entitled to a match in Frisco, which is his home town. He has done all that has been asked of him in the East, and the local fans are more than anxious to see him in action with some good man. He is a graceful, clever fighter, with a good punch in either hand and above all a native champion who has met and defeated most of the boys in his class. The one thing that may prevent the match is the fact that the Sullivans both Jack and Mike, always hold out for a good loser's end and are satisfied to split the purse even any time it is agreeable to their opponent. Then, too, Mike may demand a weight that Thomas will refuse to make. The prospects look bright, however, and as has been said the fans have been longing for a long time to see the welterweight champion in action with a good man, the match is very acceptable.

Five Cottages—Total $11,500

All Rented—Income $1,680

The above picture was taken on a cloudy, wet day and does not begin to show the good points of the property.

Great big grounds—100 feet square. Five 4-room modern, well built bungalows, just finished, high basement, hard wall plaster, which is very, very seldom put in buildings of this price. To make a long description short, suffice it to mention that these are the best little homes possible to build for the money—nothing is skimped anywhere. But a block and a half from the Sweet school—2 blocks from the car line.

All five are rented and bring in $140 a month income.

Equal to 10 per cent on a $16,000 investment.

$13,000

Lot 50 by 100 feet. New, modern two-story house of 8 large rooms; in every bedroom there is a closet as large as an ordinary hall bedroom; fireplace in the big parlor; built-in china closet in the dining room; large living room. Wide hallways on the top floor—every bedroom is separate. It is a finely arranged home. Newly painted—inside is beautifully tinted.

Cherry, plum and peach trees in the rear.

Within a few feet of the Twelfth Street car line.

The lot adjacent, 51 by 100 feet, was sold recently for $19,000 (almost $380 a foot.) On this the Carpenters' Union will at once commence building a three story hall. Will accept $3500 mortgage.

Every man ought to invest in real estate right now—at least a little piece anyway. And more when he can manage it. It's the one sure road to prosperity.

Putting things off and waiting for this, that and the other, is a sure way to miss all good things of life. The time to buy a house or make a profitable investment is NOW. Take some comfort in living. Other people are doing it every day. Why not you?

$3500

Half Cash

A neat little home just about completed; 5 rooms; bath; 7-foot basement. One block to Shattuck Ave., 2 blocks to Grove St. $1750 cash—balance easy terms.

$11,350

Good for Over 13%

Extra large lot, 40 by 120 feet, on Telegraph avenue; new modern apartment building (almost completed), 3 flats, 5 rooms each; and a 3-room cottage in the rear. Figuring rents on a conservative basis, will bring $125 a month. An investment that is good for over 13 per cent.

$1500 Cash

Income $480

Price $3500

Lot 33 1-2 by 150 feet. Two-story house of six rooms and bath, colonial design. On 48th Street, just off Telegraph Avenue.

Rents for $40 a month—a large income for a small property like this.

Will carry a mortgage of $2000.

$1500 cash is all that is needed.

$4500

An Extra Good One

In Berkeley, 1 block to Grove street; 3 blocks to Key Route station; close to S. P. local. Lot 30x100 feet. Two-flat building; newly painted; in fine condition; modern bathrooms. Rents will amount to $80 per month. Upper flat now rented for $25 a month and the owner will stay and pay $35 for the lower one. You can't ask for anything better on an investment of this size.

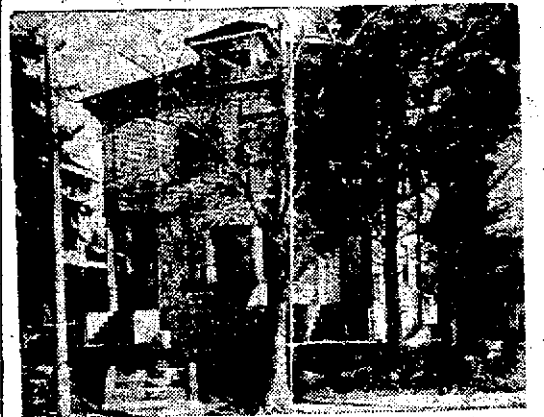

Business Corner

A large lot 79 by 124 feet, corner 47th Street and Shattuck Avenue; 79 feet on Shattuck Avenue, 124 feet on 47th Street, and inside line 100 feet. Worth at least $75 a foot, in fact, no other around this piece for less than this price.

The price on this particular property is $5530 or $70 a foot.

$1100 mortgage can remain.

Take advantage of this now and make $395.

$7750

Splendid Income Property

On Grove Street between 50th and 51st Streets. New, modern and up-to-date, 2 story building of 12 rooms arranged in three flats. Rents amount to $100 per month. Lot 44 by 100 ft. Pays almost 16 per cent; equal to 10 per cent on a $12,000 investment.

LECTURES IN DRAMA.

The series of lectures on the modern drama by the Rev. William Norman Guthrie on Monday afternoons are proving a delightful attraction and the informal talk yesterday on Ibsen's Brand was one of the most interesting enjoyed by the members of the class. Mr. Guthrie showed with unusual cleverness and sympathetic insight the physiological structure of the play and gave a delineation of each character in its relation to the great central figure, Brand. The speaker presented an intelligent resume of the difficult drama that would benefit any student of the great modern dramatist. These classes are open to the public and it is hoped that a large membership will avail themselves of the privilege of attendance. The meetings are held every Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Miss Caroline Hawley, 50 Twenty-ninth street.

EXCELLENT BILL AT BELL THEATER

The feature act at the Bell Theater this week is one of the prettiest imaginable—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Deaves' "Merry Manikins." In which automations do all the work that is seen from the front, while the Deaves family is about as busy as the proverbial beaver back of the wings. The act is decidedly clever. There is a miniature stage with all its appointments, including drop curtain. In the orchestra pit is an automaton orchestra and on either side are boxes, in one of which sits an excitable individual, an automaton, who applauds everything to the delight of the real audience. There is a horizontal bar act, song and dance by soubrette, cake walk, negro comedy team, clown act, ballet, toe dancer and spectacular electrical finale. The "Merry Manikins" is one of the best acts for the amusement for children the Bell has ever offered.

The New York Travesty Company appears to its best advantage in the musical creation, "Whirly Gilly." The music is bright, there is an abundance of humor and the ten pretty girls in the company present some very taking dances. Richard Burton sings in excellent voice and Miss Middleton appears to advantage. Herbert Deveau, a comedy sketch artist and comedian is very good. He received four curtain calls at the opening performance yesterday afternoon.

$36,500

Elegant business corner; lot 100x100; first-class improvements; brings a monthly rental of $400; no leases; rent can be increased; fine location; fine improvements; best buy in the district.

$21,000

Twelfth street—Northwest corner, 70x100; three minutes' walk to Broadway; good business property; one-half of premises rented without lease at $100 per month, balance occupied by owner at present time; will bring the same amount; improvements were first-class. The ground alone is worth more than we are asking for the property. Our time is short on this, but long enough, we think, to dispose of it, as it surely is a good buy.

$16,500

Oak street corner—One house of 15 rooms, high basement, in first-class condition, under guaranteed lease for four and one-half years at a rental of $125 per month net. A pair of this, 11 rooms, high basement, bringing $50 per month; no lease. This property is rapidly developing into business property and is increasing in value very rapidly, but in the meantime pays nearly 15 per cent guaranteed income on the investment.

$16,000

Apartment house, flat and dry goods store; located in the downtown district on the S. P. local, with a lot 48x75. While these improvements are not elaborate, they are in first-class condition; a large part of them practically new and strictly modern; has its own pumping plant, which saves the expense of water. Owner occupies part of the premises. This property is worth to good tenants without leases at $257 per month, which could be materially increased without any additional expense. This, however, pays 17 per cent on the investment as it is and is being sold to protect other interests at this extremely low price.

$15,000

Webster street corner—One hundred feet on Webster street; frame improvements, consisting of stores; present rentals $150 per month; could easily be increased to $300. One of the best—if not the best—small buys we have on our list. Don't overlook this.

$10,500

Lot 50x140, on the sunny side of Twenty-ninth street, between Telegraph and Grove; two houses, one of 10 rooms and one of 4 rooms, hall and bath; new and modern, first-class in every particular; fine residence district; nothing better for a home.

$7200

Lot 55x104; Seventeenth street, near Broadway; 8-room house; modern; two bath; two closets; including first-class furniture, carpets, everything complete. This party is compelled to sell the property at once and gave us a contract as it stands at a price of only $7200. This house could easily rent for $125 a month, and the ground alone is worth what we are asking for the premises.

$4600

Thirty-fourth street, near Grove; elegant 5-room cottage; high basement; including first-class furniture and carpets nearly new; would rent as it stands for $55; good district, convenient to everything; lot 50x100.

$4500

Apex street; sunny side; near San Pablo avenue; modern cottage of 5 rooms, reception hall and bath; thoroughly well built; first-class in every particular; lot 44x125; only a few feet from ground that is worth $250 a foot vacant.

$1200

Ocean avenue, Emeryville; 5-room cottage; full width porch; first-class cottage; lot 60x110; good renting district; should bring $25 per month easily; convenient to car line and local.

Merchants' Exchange Considers Condition of Local Streets—
Charges Made.

The question of the alleged poor condition of Oakland's streets was brought up last night at the meeting of the Merchants' Exchange by Director Young and a hot discussion followed on the questions of who was to blame for the conditions and what means might be the most practicable with which to remedy the situation. Director Young at first suggested that an Oakland Good Roads Club be launched for the benefit of the streets. He stated that the streets were at present much worse than they had been before. He said:

PEOPLE TO BLAME.

"I do not hold the superintendent of streets altogether responsible. If the proper support were given by the people and I am sure that the mayor would co-operate much might be accomplished. It used to be the custom that when a street was opened by the gas, sewer or electric light, or the water companies the rock was thrown upon one side and the mud on the other and when it was put down again the job was done properly. Nowadays they put down the rock and mud on old ruts and almost invariably leave either a large lump or a hollow. I know of a case where the street was being repaved in a careless manner and not left in good condition as the law demands and the superintendent of streets told him he would have to repair his repairs. The street was being left in a terrible condition but the contractor told the superintendent to go away, back and sit down. When the same contractor came up for another permit the superintendent put in a protest and was politely told by the powers that be to take a back seat. The contractor received his permit and went away to spoil some more streets. These have been, if I can compute correctly, about 10,000 excavations made and each one of them is now either a lump or a hollow. If I were to start in to tell you the places that have been made impassable by these methods it would take me from now till tomorrow morning and then I would hardly have started in."

GIVES INSTANCES.

He then went on to give a number of instances notably that of Athens street from San Pablo to Grove, a practically new street, which is at present almost impassable and Eleventh between Washington and Broadway, which the Traction Company is supposed to have left in good condition. He said that it would be the duty of the club to see that the city government insisted upon these companies carrying out their agreements under penalty of really forfeiting their bonds and getting any more favors in way of the franchises they were continually asking.

Director Hoffman said "What is necessary is that the Street Superintendent's office should be an elective instead of appointive. If the city has the power behind to look out for and he dare not call his soul his own. He seems to have no power to look after the streets after they are opened, but he gets all the blame for the condition they are in."

Director George W. Arper considered that there was too much specialization in this business of bringing forth clubs for every little occasion. A motion was then made that a committee be appointed to have general supervision of street conditions of the city and to see that things were done right in spite of opposition.

HAVE NOTHING.

"We have continually heard this old chant about getting the streets in order," said Fred Sinclair. "But what have we got? Just—nothing! The Superintendent is powerless. He is given useless things in the way of men to do the street work and he has to accept them. The Realty Syndicate owns this town, soul and body, and the Superintendent cannot possibly do anything."

"We might as well get straightened out on this matter," said Director Arper. In a second talk on the subject of the fault lies with not one, two, three or four elements. The fault does not lie with the law. It is up to the city government! The superintendent of streets is but a tool. If he doesn't see that these people properly repair the streets, and he does not, he permits them to do as they please, he and the city government are responsible.

"I tell you, and I never told you wrong, you've got the law and you've got the brain and you've got the money to see this thing through, and you can make them do the right thing if you have to put their heads in a water bucket."

Mr. Arper's speech met with applause and the motion to appoint a committee of three fearless men without any connections that might hamper their movements in this matter was carried with a swing. President Williams appointed E. A. Young (chairman), Herman N. Gard and Fred Sinclair as the members of the new committee.

Reports of various committees were received by the Exchange among them that on the annual banquet to be given by the Exchange in their rooms April 16th. There will be a splendid banquet and good music and a number of prominent speakers whose names will be announced later as to grace the board and respond to toasts.

A communication from the National Educational Association of Los Angeles asked the co-operation of the Exchange in giving publicity to the merits of California. SIXTEEN CANARIES SET AT LIBERTY

Mr. Schneider, the well known shoe merchant is mourning the loss of sixteen canary birds that some mischievous youngster—liberated from a cage at Mr. Schneider's residence 635 Twenty-third street, on Monday morning. The cage, containing the birds, was hanging in front of the house and the door of the cage was opened and the canaries set at liberty. Some of the neighbors now have singing birds that cost them nothing. Mr. Schneider says he will thank any one for returning one or more of his pets.

FERRIS HARTMAN AND PROF. PAUL STEINDORF TO BUILD SIDE BY SIDE

Home of Prof. Steindorf, Leader of Idora Park. Home of Ferris Hartman, Comedian at Idora Park.

Ferris Hartman the well known comedian at Idora Park and Paul Steindorf popular leader of the orchestra have just completed plans for two beautiful homes to be built side by side on Fifty-ninth street between Shattuck and Telegraph avenues, facing on Bushrod Park. These artists have been associated in business for over twenty years but they could never save enough money in any city to build a home, until they came to Oakland. In one year in the prosperous city of Oakland these artists have managed to make enough money to build fine homes and hereafter they will make this city their permanent abiding place.

A description of one house will fit the other as they are both alike, plans having been drawn by C. W. Dickey, the architect. The lots on which the houses will stand are 50x165 feet. The houses will be old Dutch style. In the third story there will be toy and billiard rooms, in the second story, sleeping apartments, bath etc., and on the first floor there will be the reception rooms, kitchen, etc., and an elegant studio and a den that will make the god's jealous because of its luxuriousness. The houses will be finished in hard wood beam ceilings and everything will be done in a most elaborate manner. Talk about your homes, well they will be right up to date. You can call on the Hartmans and Steindorfs in three months in their new homes.

Monticello the Home of Jefferson. Another old world feature is the subterranean passage which runs under the house and comes out of the mountain a hundred yards away. It was once large enough to admit a cart but has now so fallen into decay that a man could scarcely crawl through.

Tradition says that it was through this passage Jefferson escaped when warned by the friendly Joubert of the approach of Napoleon's riders. But Dr. C. N. Randolph the great grandson of the President told the writer that the pretty story is a myth. Being warned of the approach of the British Mr. Jefferson took a bridle path down the other side of the mountain hurriedly committing his papers to the charge of Burrill, his negro major-domo. here's a way to save a hundred dollars

We are giving one-quarter off on all furniture.

We have left the old prices exactly as they were and will take the one-quarter off of them.

For instance, if a table is marked $10, you can get it at this sale for $7.50.

This discount applies to EVERY piece of furniture in the store—Absolutely no exceptions.

Now suppose you are about to furnish up your home—say you need $400 worth of furniture to start—all you need do is come in here, pick out a $400 assortment and pay $300 for it. A clean, clear saving of $100.

Or suppose you only need $20 worth of furniture—say a couch or perhaps a bureau—if so it will cost you $15, a saving of five dollars.

Yesterday at least three hundred people took advantage of the sale. One party saved over $150 on her discount alone. A traveling man, who happened to be in, said it was the most legitimate sale he ever saw.

The sale continues all week. In the afternoons the store is crowded, so come in the morning if you can. Don't let the opportunity pass you, for it is seldom that really high-grade furniture, in complete assortment, is offered at one-quarter off. Arrangements can be made for credit—Pay $1 a week.
